1 Report

Your .Rmd document must read in the dataset from the data folder.

```
survey_data <- read_excel("data/survey-data.xlsx")

You must cite the dataset and paper using cross references. As an example, here is a reference for a paper on food pairings¹.

You must use a {pagedown} format or template. This example document uses pagedown::html_paged with a limited amount of custom CSS. You do not need to customise the CSS for your report - you will not receive extra credit for a beautiful looking report.

Lines 32-34 in this template demonstrate how to customise the appearance and position of the references, ie to add a heading.
